Register Now!

2017 North Coast Forest Conservation Conference
June 7, 8 & 9 • Santa Rosa, CA
An inspirational forum bringing together scientists, foresters, land owners, students and the public to:

- Learn about the state of our forests;
- Explore trends and possible futures;
- Share diverse perspectives and innovations;
- Discover opportunities for action & collaboration

Early bird registration through April 1st!
$120 two-day registration • $30 field trip • $40 dinner

After April 1st:
$135 two-day registration • $35 field trip • $50 dinner

Students can register for 50% off (code: SEEDLING)

Click here to register.

More info at: www.sonomaforests.org

Join us in delving into three diverse tracks at the forefront of Ecology, Economy & Community as they relate to our forests and the most pertinent issues and solutions available. A series of plenary sessions, panels and concurrent sessions will convene on June 7th and 8th, followed by field tours on Friday, June 9th.

Special dinner on Thursday, June 8th at Shone Farm featuring a presentation by Kat Anderson, author of Tending the Wild: Native American Knowledge and Management of California’s Natural Resources.

SONOMA COUNTY FOREST
CONSERVATION WORKING GROUP

Protecting forests across landscapes and through generations...

Santa Rosa Junior College • June 7, 8 & 9, 2017